

Vertical text columns containing technical specifications, data tables, and notes, likely related to the map's projection or scale.

